CAMP SELECTS WESTERN MEN FOR ALL-AMERICAN

Benbrook of Michigan and McGovern of Minnesota Given Places on Team

SUGGESTS LONG HONOR LIST

Football critics, east and west, delight in the privilege of expressing their views about an All-American team, and usually the personnel of such team depends to a large extent upon the section of the country from which the selection is made. However, Walter Camp's All-American team invariably finds the most favor with the sporting public and lives longest in the memory of those who delight in that sort of thing.

In the January Outing, Camp merely suggests the names of the players on each team who are entitled to the most honor for their season's work, and many thought this suggestion was intended to replace the All-American team. Such was not the case, however, and in this week's Collier's he names the players whom he considers best for their respective positions. Two western men are included in the list, Benbrook the giant Michigan guard, and McGovern, the snappy Minnesota quarter. On the second team, Michigan has two men, Alford and Magidsohn, both half-backs. Both Michigan and Minnesota have men on the third team.

Camp's Selection.

First Eleven.
Regnier, Brown, end.
Fish, Harvard, tackle.
Benbrook, Michigan, guard.
Cooney, Yale, center.
Andrus, Yale, guard.
Hobbs, Yale, tackle.
Kilpatrick, Yale, end.
McGovern, Minnesota, quarter-back.
Phillips, Yale, half back.
Minot, Harvard, half back.
Coy, Yale, full back.
Second Eleven.
Bankhart, Dartmouth, end.
Lilley, Yale, tackle.
Gebel, Yale, guard.
P. Withington, Harvard, center.
Tobin, Dartmouth, guard.
McKay, Harvard, tackle.

Bradstock, Pennsylvania, end.
Howe, Yale, quarter back.
Allerdice, Michigan, half back.
Magidsohn, Michigan, half back.
Marks, Dartmouth, full back.
Third Eleven.
Page, Chicago, end.
Siegling, Princeton, tackle.
Le Withington, Harvard, guard.
Farnum, Minnesota, center.
Fisher, Harvard, guard.
Casey, Michigan, tackle.
McCaffrey, Fordham, end.
Sprackling, Brown, quarter back.
Corbett, Harvard, half back.
Miller, Notre Dame, half back.
McCas, Lafayette, full back.

Camp's Honor List.

Six of Fielding H. Yost's husky warriors are named on the honor list prepared by Camp. The list includes:
Yale—Coy, fullback; Kilpatrick, right end; Phillips, left halfback; Andrus, left guard; Hobbs, left tackle; Cooney, center; Howe, quarterback.

Fordham—McCaffrey, right end; Barrett, center; McCarthy, right halfback.
Minnesota—McGovern, quarterback; Rosenwald, halfback; Walker, tackle; Farnum, center.
Brown—Regnier, right end; Sprackling, quarterback; Ayler, left guard.
Chicago—Page, quarterback; Worth, wide, halfback.

Notre Dame—Miller, left halfback; Vaughn, fullback; Edwards, tackle.
Wisconsin—Anderson, quarterback.

PRESENT RULES SATISFY IOWA'S FOOTBALL COACH

Toledo, O., Dec. 16.—"King" Cole, the Toledo football coach, who recently returned home after the gridiron season at Nebraska university, does not believe that any of the contemplated changes in the rules are going to keep the game free from accidents.

"As a matter of fact," said the well known coach today, "the present rules had nothing to do with the numerous accidents this fall. It was just the luck of the game, and the chances are that if the sport was to be conducted along present lines, similar fatalities might never occur again."

"The prospect of revising the rules, so that a team would be compelled to carry the ball 15 yards in three downs instead of the 10, as is in vogue under the present system, would make the game too much of a passing and kicking pastime and would take away all the attractive features."

"Much of the trouble now is caused by the laxity of the officials. Too much holding is allowed, and that sort of thing invariably causes trouble. A man who is continually offended in this respect is bound to retaliate and a lot of ill feeling is engendered. "Offside playing isn't so bad, but tripping and holding should be eliminated, and when they are, football will be a much cleaner and less dangerous sport."

"There is a lot of luck in the present game, and a great deal of it is due to the long punt. I believe it would be a much better plan to compel the defending side to touch the ball on a kick before its opponents are allowed to secure it."

ANOTHER CHALLENGE FOR YOUNG MILLER TO ANSWER

Young Miller, of St. Paul, who claims the welterweight championship of the world, and who wrestled Sator in this city two years ago, the bout going over two hours, and neither man being able to secure a fall, can get a match with M. Wasson of Indianapolis for $500 a side, according to a letter sent to the Duluth Herald.

Wasson says that he is anxious to get on with Miller, and is so sure of beating the pride of St. Paul that he will place $500 of his own money on his chances with Miller.

The Indianapolis man is well known in the wrestling game, having met and defeated some of the best men at his weight in the country.

In regard to the challenge to Young Miller or Lex Claton, who are in the northwest, Wasson writes:

"I would like to issue a challenge to either of those wrestlers for a match, catch-as-catch-can, to a finish and for a side bet of from $100 to $500, and winner take the entire receipts."

"Now in regard to the side bet—I mean $100 to $500 in real money and not stage money—I am ready at any time to post a forfeit with your paper, or any responsible party.

"I will be willing to wrestle in Duluth, and would like to have the match arranged within the next thirty days."
